The Actualized Leadership Profile (ALP) is a 77-item self assessment that measures an individual's dominant motive need and corresponding style of leadership. Based on the seminal works of Abraham Maslow and David McClelland, the ALP measures the degree of self-actualization that is demonstrated in one's current style of leadership. A customized, full color and confidential report identifies the strengths and limitations in the individual's current leadership approach.

Challenge:

- To provide a creative and intuitive visualization of personal assessment results.
- To create a visualization that accepts result parameters from the system's existing ASP code.

Solution:

- The flexibility of the AnyChart.graphics technology allowed to nest several pie charts and create a multi-level pie chart not available from other chart vendors.
- AnyChart provides the flexibility to use customized background visualizations.

"None of the other major chart vendors was able to meet our specialized needs."
— William Sparks, Principal, Sparks & Associates

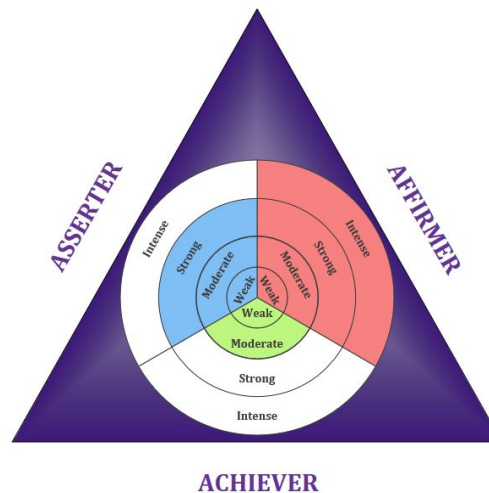

"We were able to incorporate AnyChart seamlessly into our existing ASP-coded system."

"The component is extremely flexible and easy to work with. It allowed us to visualize personal assessment results exactly the way we needed."

"AnyChart's support team is superb – timely and knowledgeable!"
